An Introduction to Dolphin (Fine Art) Printers

A family run business formed in 1970, Dolphin have been members of the fine art trade guild since 1987. In the past twenty years since joining we have had many highly satisfied customers. Dolphin have printed for both small independent galleries, national galleries and many self-publishing artists.

Why not telephone for an informal no obligation chat, or browse our website and email us for samples. Or just take your time and keep us on file. But do not lose the ability to make contact with possibly the best printer you could ever work with.

"..friendly family firm and always bend over backwards to make sure I have the very best.."

No matter how accomplished the originator may be, the eventual success of any image within the commercial field of Fine Art and Design is wholly dependant upon the skill and discernment of the printer. During the last 12 years that my business has been involved with Dolphin Printers, they have shown a high degree of professional skills, innovative techniques, combined with a competitive price structure. Their wealth of experience is made available in a warm family atmosphere, where old-fashioned, friendly advice, has always been most welcome and indeed has proven invaluable.

I have dealt with Dolphin Printers for a good many years. They are totally efficient as one would expect, friendly advice on problems, delivery always on time, but for me their best attribute is their ability in making you feel a special customer.

Audrey Hinks - Gallery Marin

I would just like to thank you for your excellent service in producing our in house wrapping paper to such a high quality. The print finish is great and the speed at which you turned this around was fantastic.

Ella Doran

Dolphin Printers was recommended to me by an agent we were using and I am so glad that he did. From the very first contact with them they have been helpful, friendly and efficient. I am always happy to recommend their services to anyone who is looking for a printer.

Dolphin are also great at offering useful advice and I always feel that they are genuinely on our side, making suggestions to help us save money. I really enjoy working with them and it is even a pleasure phoning them to ask a query.

Rothbury Publishing was formed in 2000 with a view to publishing nostalgic transport themes on greetings cards. Thankfully we found a highly professional family greetings cards and general printers within 40 miles. Dolphin Printers (Poole) Ltd specialised in smaller card runs for smaller publishers. Now seven years later after printing millions of cards for us, I can only congratulate them on a job well done.

For our brochures, greeting cards, prints and our general printing requirements, have always been produced of the highest quality, their attention to detail, price, delivery, has always been amenable and on top of all that they are "jolly nice people" to do business with, I have no hesitation in recommending this fine company from Dorset.

Colin Hayward - Rothbury Publishing

Dolphin Fine Art Printers have, over the last 20 years, supplied the Hunter Simmonds Gallery with outstanding support by producing a wide selection of brochures and sophisticated invitations, all of which have been of a very high quality and have obviously been instrumental in enticing large numbers of clients to our viewings. We have no reservations whatsoever in recommending their services to anyone.

My name is Keith Saunders and I am a self employed Sales Agent in the business of the promotion and marketing the work of Artists to High Street Art Galleries throughout the South of England.

Naturally, for all Artists, it is essential that when Open and Limited Editions are produced from their originals, that much emphasis is placed both on the fine accuracy and an excellent colour match in the reproduction of their work.

There are many companies offering printing services although for perfection and a competitive price, I have found that 'time and time' again, Dolphin Printers to be by far the best.

Certainly, their very helpful and knowledgeable staff can offer a wealth of experience which is definitely an added benefit for those Artists and Companies just starting out in the publishing world.

Keith Saunders

Always a pleasure to deal with the team at Dolphin. Attention to detail and sympathetic care with reproduction is assured. Quotations are competitive and suggestions for improving quality and economy are offered as a matter of course.

Jan Harbon - Artist

As a long established artist with half a century of experience, I would strongly recommend Dolphin Fine Art as the best print provider in Dorset. Over the past twenty years I have used them for all brochures, greetings cards and both open and limited edition prints.

They are a first-rate company with top-notch service and offer excellent quality and value for money.

Keith Cast

After spending so long on one of my paintings I want to use a printer who will give me the results I want. Whether it is for a limited edition, an open edition or a greeting card, that is why I go to Dolphin Printers at Poole.

Michael - Michael Cooper's Studio

We have worked with quite a few printers during eighteen years of publishing greeting cards and fine art prints. Over the last seventeen of those years Dolphin Printers have always been our main source of supply because, in addition to providing competitive pricing and reliable service, they are always willing to give a little extra in finding the right answers to the questions and problems which frequently crop up in publishing projects. The rapport we have built up with Dolphin is an important asset to our business.

John Ellner - Colour House Graphics

Dolphin Print has always gone to extraordinary lengths to ensure our print products are made to the highest quality and they have risen to every challenge we have given them. The service they provide is, in our experience, unequalled, and they are a pleasure to work with. We recommend them without reservation.

Kit - Kit Grover Limited

I have been using Dolphin Printers now for 15 years. They print all my cards and limited edition prints. They are excellent printers. Their work is of the highest quality and in all the 15 years I have never had to complain once.

They are a friendly family firm and always bend over backwards to make sure I have the very best in the quickest possible time. You couldn't find a better printers and a friendlier one and their prices are extremely competitive.
